The welcome Sunshine of the last day or so brings renewed hope to the much disengaged farmer, the backward spring and the incessant rains have indeed been very trying on the patience of the farmer yet he is equal to the emergency, he knows that the world depends upon him for food and raiment, therefore, he cannot afford to be discouraged in his efforts. It is true seeding time for some crops is far advanced yet there is plenty time in which to raise a corn crop by selecting the very earliest variety of feed, a fair crop can be raised by planting as late as June 1.

MILES ITEMS.

Mrs. George Heart is on the sick list.

Sowing Oats.

It is a lamentable fact that the crop of wild oats sown by boys from 12 to 21 is greater each generation says an exchange. Now many and many a young man persuades a young woman to go to the altar with him, with nothing to provide for the home except what may be secured on credit.

What should be the property of every young man at this time of life has been spent during the days of bumming, as it is called in slang. The world is holding the most for the boy who doesn't act the fool while growing up.

A Gentle Hint.

L. B. Fenton was out in the Neodesha neighborhood last week and was surprised at excellent conditions of the roads. But when informed that George Mell was road overseer the position was plain. More Schools Are Needed

Oklahoma Educators Form Association and Memorialize Legislature.

Guthrie, Ok.—The Public School Officers' Association of Oklahoma is the name of a new State-wide organization formed here today to further legislation and other projects in the interests of the school of the state. A committee on legislation drafted a memorial to the legislature, urging the reenactment of the code of school laws inherited from Oklahoma territory, amending and changing some provisions that do not apply to new conditions. The legislature is asked to amend the law authorizing the issuance of school district bonds, so that the issue may be gotten out and sold in time to build school houses for the next school year. If this is not done, it is asserted that thousands of children will be deprived of school

Alex Poser, known as the "Creek Bard," has gone back to his own, purchasing the Indian Journal at Eufaula from George Baker. This is the oldest paper in Oklahoma, having been established in 1877. Poser was editor of the paper in 1902-3, and won fame as an Indian dialect writer. He will continue the publication of his Pue Erixo letters in the Indian Journal.

Attorney Jim Griffith of Lone Wolf has taken charge of the Echo at that place, succeeding Judge Thomas, who founded the paper. The paper will remain Democratic. Charles L. Cox has recently disposed of the Mountain Park Herald and has assumed charge of the Tribune, the Republican paper at that place. His politics will be changed to Democratic.

The Elk City Record has been disposed of by T. D. Penn to S. A. Penn who assumed charge last week. The politics of the paper will remain the same.

Mrs. J. A. Wise of Chelsea visited her sister Mrs. Wm. Meeks here this week.

Will Wade and party left Monday for Eucha on a fishing trip.

Pat Mahoney and Miss Larkin visited in Springfield Sunday.

Dr. J. M. Thompson of Tahlequah visited relatives here Sunday.

WATSON OUTLINES WORK.

Member of Oklahoma Regulatory Body Enthusiastic.

Guthrie, Ok.—Col. A. P. Watson, member and vice-chairman of the Oklahoma State Corporation Commission, is enthusiastic regarding the results that a commission of this kind can bring about, and maintains that the record thus far of the Oklahoma commission is a record-breaker, notwithstanding the fact that the commission is still without any appropriation whatever from the state. In making their investigations and holding their hearings, the members of the commission, according to Col. Watson, have paid their expenses from their own pockets.

"Already the commission has saved the people of Oklahoma a sum annually amounting to more than $5,000,000," said Col. Watson in discussing the commission's work, "and we feel that we are just getting started good. In that we have had no appropriation whatever, we feel that our record is one to be proud of."

The reduction made by the commission on grain and grain commodities, as established this week, will save the people the sum of $1,975,250 annually, basing our estimates on last year's shipments.

Using the same basis for our figures, the rate reduction on coal will save the people of Oklahoma $1,292,000 annually; the reduction on lumber will make even a greater saving, and that on oil and other commodities will be as great as that on either grain or coal.

The reduction on telephone rates, as made by the commission for citizens of Tulsa, will make that city alone a saving of $9,000 per annum, and applying the same rates to all cities of the first class in Oklahoma, which is the intention, the total saving in telephone rates will be another $500,000 annually over the entire state."

In addition to the rate reductions, the Oklahoma Commission has placed in force a demurrage order, which the Texas commission recently stated was the best west of the Mississippi, and additional orders that complete sufficient facilities for the accommodation of the people in all parts of the state, such as maintaining train schedules, providing clean and comfortable stations and preventing the removal or change of train stations and agents without the approval of the commission.
